A Bibliography of Macmillan of Canada Imprints, 1906-1980

First Supplement with Corrigenda

Carl Spadoni

In the introduction to A Bibliography of Macmillan of Canada Imprints, 1906-1980 (Toronto: Dundurn Press, 1985, p. xv) the compilers admitted that 'a bibliography on this scale will contain errors both of omission and commission.' The discovery of such 'errors' does not in any way undermine the importance of a bibliography of this kind. Recording the publishing activity of one of the foremost Canadian publishers of the twentieth century is a formidable task. In the case of the Macmillan Company of Canada, many books attributed to this firm often turned out, on examination, to be merely distributed by the company and not published by it. Other books which the company apparently issued still cannot be located in any library or in private hands.

The compilation of the bibliography was undertaken in the Division of Archives and Research Collections at McMaster University Library which houses the Macmillan library. Since the publication of the bibliography McMaster University Library has continued to add to its collection of Macmillan imprints. In 1988-90 the purchase of newly-found Macmillan imprints was made possible by a grant from the Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council of Canada. With the exceptions of 2AA, 42A, and 242A which can be found in the National Library of Canada, a copy of each work contained in this supplement is at McMaster. The assistance of antiquarian booksellers who make bibliography possible and who have been able to find elusive Macmillan publications is readily acknowledged.

The description of each item in this supplement is in accordance with the bibliographical principles stated in the introduction to the bibliography. When the description of a book does not specify a particular date, the reader should assume that the date in question is on the verso of the title-leaf. The arrangement of these new entries has been determined by reference to the original numbering in the bibliography, firstly by publication date, and then alphabetically by author within each year. Since the numbering of the bibliography is sequential, the numbering of items in the supplement has unavoidably led to the use of alphabetical subnumbering; in some cases this subnumbering is repeated within a number (e.g. 2AA) because a number containing an alphabetical numeral (e.g. 2A) already exists in the bibliography.

Additions to the Bibliography

1906

1A. CHURCHILL, Winston

Coniston. By Winston Churchill, Author of 'Richard Carvell,' 'The Crisis,' 'The Crossing,' Etc. With Illustrations By Florence Scovel Shinn. New York: The Macmillan Company; London: Macmillan & Co., Ltd. 1906. All rights reserved.

xiv, 543, [1] pp. + ad.; 200 x 136 mm.

Imprint at foot of spine reads 'Macmillan / Toronto.'

1B. HAWKINS, Anthony Hope

Sophy Of Kravonia. By Anthony Hope [pseud.], Author of 'The Prisoner of Zenda,' 'Rupert of Hentzau,' 'The Indiscretion Of The Duchess,' Etc. With Sixteen Full-page Illustrations by Fred Pegram. Toronto: The Macmillan Co. of Canada, Limited.

viii, 397, [1] pp.; 186 x 125 mm.

This undated issue has been assigned tentatively to the year of publication of the English edition, the sheets of which comprise the Canadian issue.

2AA. LONDON, Jack

Illustrated by Philip R. Goodwin and Charles Livingston Bull. The Call Of The Wild. By Jack London. Toronto: Morang & Co., Limited 1905. Decorated by Chas. Edw. Hooper.

[4], 9-231, [1] pp.; 188 x 130 mm.

The first Canadian edition was originally published by Morang in 1903. This issue is a reprint. The sheets have been bound in dull grey green cloth, and the imprint on the spine reads 'Macmillan.' It is possible that 'Macmillan' is the Macmillan Co. of Canada, rather than the American branch or English parent company. In spite of the 1905 date on the title-page, it is arguable that the book was issued sometime after 1905 in the binding described here. (The Canadian branch was incorporated on December 15, 1905.) The Macmillan Co. of Canada reprinted the book with their own title-page in 1910. A later edition was published in 1933 (see 532) and a school edition in 1964 (see 1682). A parallel situation exists with London's The Sea-Wolf, for the Morang edition of 1904 exists in a binding with 'The Macmillan Company' on the spine.

2C. McILWRAITH, Jean N.

The Curious Career of Roderick Campbell. By Jean N. McIlwraith. Toronto: The Macmillan Company Of Canada Limited.

[9], 4-287, [1] pp.; 195 x 123 mm.

This undated Canadian issue uses sheets from the American edition, originally published by Houghton Mifflin & Co. in 1901. Since the date of publication by the Macmillan Co. of Canada is not known, the earliest possible date has tentatively been assigned to the book.

2D. NOYES, Alfred

Poems. By Alfred Noyes. With An Introduction By Hamilton W. Mabie. New York: The Macmillan Company; London: Macmillan & Co., Ltd. 1906. All rights reserved.

xiv, 193, [1] pp. + ad.; 193 x 130 mm.

Above the imprint is a rubber stamp 'cancellation' which reads: 'The Macmillan Company / Of Canada, Limited / 27 Richmond Street, West, / Toronto.' This book was originally omitted from the bibliography as something of a curiosity, but as other examples of this form of producing a Canadian 'issue' have been found, it has seemed worth including them.
